1Q22 SaaS Public Market Update

ftwareequity.com

1Q22 SEG SaaS Index Summary

The SEG SaaS Index is a list of publicly traded companies we have determined to be SaaS businesses (i.e., they primarily offer solutions via the cloud and may have a subscription or transaction-based pricing model). The Index is updated on a quarterly basis depending on mergers and acquisitions, IPOs, readily available financial data, and changes in business model.

Our 1Q22 SaaS Index comprises 110 of these publicly traded companies, and the following charts illustrate our analysis of the Index's financial metrics in the first quarter of 2022.

- Due to the large influx of companies taking advantage of strong stock market performance in 2021, there were 14 additions to the SEG SaaS Index in 1Q22.
 Notable additions include Couchbase, Squarespace, PowerSchool, Instructure, Riskified, Alkami, and Monday.com.
- EV/Revenue multiples dropped significantly in 1Q22, down 30% from 13.9x in 4Q21 to 9.8x in 1Q22. This material decline over the last four months has occurred as investors shy away from riskier, high-growth investments and focus more on profitability instead. Geopolitical unrest, inflation, interest rates, and federal monetary policy have all contributed to this shift.
- Security and human capital management had the highest revenue growth in 1Q22 as employee retention, labor shortages, hybrid work environments, and increased attention on cybersecurity solutions brought these product categories into focus.

Revenue Performance

In 1Q22 the median growth rate for the SEG SaaS Index reached 28.5%, with nearly a third of SaaS companies experiencing a growth rate of 40% or more. Note: this upward trend is also a result of more high-growth companies added to the Index.

Public Market Multiples

Public market multiples saw a 40% decrease from its peak in 1Q21, with a median of 9.8x EV/Revenue in 1Q22. Geopolitical unrest, rising interest rates, and inflation combined to drive down valuations, leading to more companies in the <5x cohort, and fewer companies in the >15x category as compared to 1Q21.

SEG SaaS Index: The Weighted Rule of 40%

Generally, SaaS companies with a higher weighted Rule of 40⁽¹⁾ are rewarded with higher revenue multiples. In 1Q22, companies in the higher cohorts saw the most significant impact on multiples. We see this impact as a result of investors shifting toward profitability since these cohorts include many companies growing quickly but are unprofitable.

Median EV/TTM Revenue vs. Weighted Rule of 40%

(1) The Rule of 40% assesses the health of SaaS companies by considering revenue growth and profitability. The calculation is a weighted formula that accounts for the higher value placed on revenue growth. Weighted Rule of 40 = (0.67xEBITDA marcin) + (1.33xRevenue Growth).

Product Category Financial Performance

In 1Q22, Communications & Collaboration had the highest TTM revenue growth rate out of all product categories, with a median growth of 41.5%. Leaders in the space included Monday.com at 91.3%, Asana at 66.7%, and Twilio at 61.3%.

This category was followed closely by Other SaaS and Security, with median growth rates of 35.2% and 33.3%, respectively.

Median TTM Revenue Growth

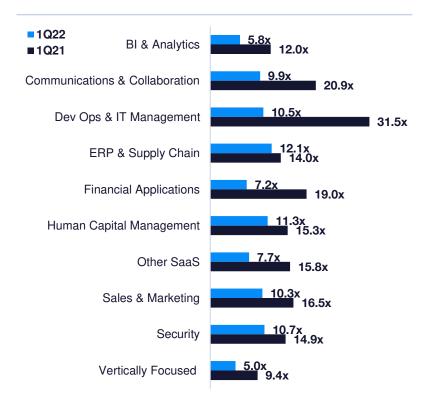

Product Category Financial Performance

While median EV/Revenue multiples decreased across all product categories from 1Q21 to 1Q22, Financial Applications and Dev Ops & IT Management saw the largest decrease from year to year.

Human Capital Management and Security both remained relatively strong as the need to support hybrid work environments, bring on more staff, and mitigate cybersecurity risks has continued in 2022.
